

CONFERENCE ANNOUNCEMENT

EuroMed2024 the 10th Euro-Mediterranean Conference on Digital Heritage

2nd - 4th of December 2024 | Cyprus University of Technology, Limassol

The UNESCO Chair on Digital Cultural Heritage is pleased to formally announce the 10th biannual International Euro-Mediterranean Conference on Digital Heritage (EuroMed2024) will be held between the 2nd and 4th of December 2024 at the Cyprus University of Technology, Limassol, Cyprus.

This key conference on Cultural Heritage will bring together researchers, policymakers, professionals and practitioners from the multidisciplinary CH domains to discuss the challenges and successes facing CH today. EuroMed2024 focuses on the interdisciplinary and intersectorial research on CH and use of cutting-edge technologies for the protection, restoration, preservation, mass digitalisation, documentation and presentation of CH content. The conference provides a forum to explore new CH research, novel sustainable approaches and technological advances ready for exploitation by user communities, SMEs, owners, managers and conservators of cultural patrimony.

CALL FOR PAPERS

We invite scholars and researchers from the academy and professionals working across the diverse spectrum of CH activities to submit papers under the following topic headings:

- I. Artificial Intelligence in Cultural Heritage
- II. Contribution to the Protection, Conservation, Restoration, & Preservation (PCRP) of Cultural Heritage
- III. Cross Realities (AR/MR/XR/VR) and Virtual World Development and Use for Cultural Heritage
- IV. Data Acquisition and Processing (including Paradata and Metadata)
- V. Data Modelling, Analysis, Knowledge Management & Visualisation
- VI. Digital Approaches to Documentation, Dissemination and Exploitation of CH Results
- VII. e-Infrastructures, Sustainability & Long-Term Preservation for Digital Cultural Heritage

Specific topics of interest can be found under the Call for Participaton at the EuroMed2024 website

Submissions

We welcome two types of papers for inclusion into the conference programme:

Project Papers

Authors present new innovative research developments and results. They will feature a 15-minute full-length oral presentation and will be published in a high-quality Springer-Nature proceedings volume. Each submitted paper must not exceed 12 pages in total.

Short Papers/Posters

Authors of accepted Short Papers/Posters will have the opportunity to give short presentation of 5 minutes to outline preliminary research and work in progress. Additionally, authors are required to prepare a poster for display during the conference in support of their work. The short papers will be published also by Springer-Nature.

Submissions for the event are completely electronic through on-line submission via the EuroMed2024 website Paper Submission page website and must be submitted by midnight CET on Thursday the 1st August 2024.

The conference accepts only original, unpublished work written in English which will be blind-reviewed and published by the prestigious SPRINGER-NATURE LNCS.

We look forward to welcoming you to Cyprus and EuroMed2024, which promises to be a thought-provoking and informative event for all delegates.
